He Already Has!

The late Tony Campolo, the well-known Baptist preacher and college professor, once observed that the church often seems to lack the money to carry out its mission, even though its people already have the financial resources that are required. To prove his point, he offered the following story.

He was giving a major address at a women's conference. At one point in the program, the women were being challenged with a prayer request they had received from a missionary in Venezuela. This missionary doctor was asking for $5,000.00 to put an addition on her medical clinic. The addition was desperately needed because she wasn't able to handle all the sick people who came to her facility.

The leader of the event then turned to him and asked, "Dr. Campolo would please lead us in prayer that the Lord might provide the $5,000.00 that's needed by our sister in Venezuela?" To her astonishment, he went to the podium and graciously declined. He said "No! But what I will do is take all the money I am carrying on me and put it on the altar. And I'm going to ask everyone here to do the same. No need to write out checks," he added. "We'll only accept cash. After we've put all the cash we're carrying on the altar, we'll count it. Then I'll ask God to write out a check for the difference." (It was a good day to pull this off, he later remarked, because he had just arrived back in town that very morning from another speaking engagement and only had $2.25 on him!)

The leader smiled benevolently and said, "We've all gotten the point, haven't we?" To which Campolo responded, "No. I don't think we have. Here's my $2.25. Now, it's your turn."

She was somewhat taken aback by his aggressive request but nevertheless opened up her wallet and pulled out $110.00 and slapped it down on his “meager” offering. “We’re on our way!” he responded. “We’ve got $112.25. Now it’s your turn!” he said looking toward the other women in the room.

He pointed at one woman sitting in the front pew over to his right. She looked around and smiled a bit. But she got up and came to the altar and put her cash on top of theirs. Then he got the next woman to do it, then the next, and the next. It took more than 25 minutes to take up the offering as one by one, woman after woman came and placed her money on the altar. (Even so, he knew he hadn’t gotten all of their cash that day, judging by the dirty looks he got from some of them!)

When they had finally finished taking turns laying their money on the altar, they counted it. They had taken in more than $8,000.00! Remember, the original prayer request was for only $5,000.00. Then he said to them, “The audacity of asking God for $5,000.00, when he has already provided us with more than $8,000.00! We should not be asking God to supply our needs. He already has!”

This past Sunday was Commitment Sunday for our Hope Grows Here initiative. This coming Sunday, I will be announcing the results thus far. And we will also have the chance to place our offerings on the altar, so to speak. Just like those women in Tony Campolo’s story.

I say “thus far” because perhaps not everyone has had the opportunity to participate. If that’s true for you, it’s not too late. I would encourage you to prayerfully consider what you might be able to contribute to this effort as well. In fact, this generosity initiative is a two-year program. So, there's a chance for you to join in at any point along the journey.

We've spoken previously at length about how this money will be used, and the various ministry efforts of our congregation that it will support. And, given our current political reality, there is a very real possibility that in the days ahead the church, including our congregation, will be required to aid those in need even more than we have in the past.

But that's simply who we are and what the church does in the name of Jesus Christ. And while the need is perhaps even greater than ever, we need not worry whether we have the resources necessary to respond to those needs. Or wonder if God will supply them. Because God already has!

A MESSAGE FROM YOUR CONGREGATION COUNCIL

As you know Council has been working on a facilities renovation plan. This was being conducted while we concentrated on moving our Generis Generosity 2-year program to fruition. Our “Hope Grows Here” generosity program has recently kicked off.

As an update on the facilities renovation:

- The Council has been working on various designs. We started with some basic thoughts and are moving toward multiple designs. We went from twelve designs and are now concentrating on three designs that will provide for a new a “multi-purpose room” and added classroom /meeting rooms. Once these designs are finalized, they will be presented to the Congregation for their review and eventual approval. We anticipate the approval process will happen no later than our June annual meeting.
- Another consideration is factoring in what we can afford based on our current financials. Members of Council, our Congregation Treasurer and a Renovation Financial Team has been “crushing the numbers” to pinpoint what we think we can afford. We have also consulted with the Mission Investment Fund (a financial ministry of the ELCA) whose mission is to assist congregations with various investment / mortgage options.
- Another aspect of a “facilities renovation” is what the education landscape looks like from a “free pre-school” point of view and what impact that has on our Hope Christian School. At this point in time there has been no impact on our pre-school, and we are endeavoring to further research this.

➤ I ask that if you have questions, concerns, or thoughts on this please reach out to Pastor and or members of the Council for further information or status of the program.

Dear Youth Families,

I can't believe how quickly February flew by and how fast March arrived! We have an exciting month ahead at Hope Lutheran Church, and we invite you to join us for upcoming activities and service opportunities! On Shrove Tuesday, March 4, we will host our annual Pancake Supper. We ask the youth to help set up at 5:00 PM as we prepare to begin serving at 6:00 PM. The following day, Ash Wednesday, March 5, we will hold our worship service at 7:00 PM, marking the start of the Lenten season.

On March 8, Josh invites all Sunday School and youth families to his home at 4:00 PM for an afternoon of fun, food, and fellowship. It will be a fantastic opportunity to connect and enjoy each other's company.

Later in the month, we will gather again on Wednesday, March 19, at 6:00 PM to make sandwiches for those in need, continuing our community service and outreach tradition. I would also like to plan another social outing after the great time we had bowling last month! I will contact the youth families to coordinate the best time for everyone!

We look forward to seeing you and your families at these events as we grow together in faith, love, and service, while continuing to cultivate a culture where Hope Grows Here and flourishes! If you have any questions, please don't hesitate to reach out.

GENEROSITY

There is a very strong connection between being generous and using that generosity to assist others in need.

Generosity extends beyond the mere act of giving material possessions; it encompasses the sharing of time, knowledge, compassion, and love. The impact of generosity is profound, transforming both the giver and the receiver in life-affirming ways.

Generosity exhibits itself in various forms:

- Material Giving: Donating money, food, clothes, or other resources to those in need is the most common form of generosity.
- Time: Volunteering time for community service, helping friends and family, or mentoring someone can be one of the most valuable gifts.
- Knowledge: Sharing knowledge and expertise can empower others and foster growth and innovation.
- Emotional Support: Offering a listening ear, providing encouragement, or simply being there for someone in times of need.

Generosity can be cultivated through planned practices and a shift in mindset.

- Mindful Living: Practicing mindfulness helps individuals become more aware of their abundance and the needs of others, fostering a natural inclination towards generosity.
- Gratitude: Developing a habit of gratitude for what one has can inspire a desire to share and give back.

- Community Engagement: Being actively involved in community activities and causes can provide opportunities to practice and witness generosity, reinforcing its importance.
- Educating and Leading by Example: Teaching children and young adults the value of generosity through education and by setting examples can cultivate a culture of giving in future generations.

In conclusion: Generosity is more than an act; it is a way of life that enriches the giver, the receiver, and society as a whole. By embracing the essence of generosity and overcoming its challenges, we can create a world rooted in kindness, empathy, and shared prosperity. The ripple effect of one generous act can inspire countless others, creating a legacy of giving that transcends generations. Let us all strive to be generous, not only in our deeds but in our hearts, for in giving, we truly receive.
